

Atlantic Purification Systems Ltd.

Sales Support / Project Management (Dartmouth) Environmental Division

Atlantic Purification Systems Ltd., in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia has an immediate opening for a full time entry-level inside sales support/project management person in their environmental water and wastewater division.

As an integral part of our sales team, the successful candidate will have a strong customer service and sales focus, maximizing sales opportunities through regular customer contact. The position involves coordinating multiple projects while attending to daily tasks and changing priorities: exceptional time management, communication, organizational and computer literacy skills are required.

Previous sales experience along with a science/technical background, or experience in water & wastewater systems and/or municipal and industrial systems, would be an asset to ensure optimal job performance and growth within the organization.

Interested persons should reply in confidence to
